MANILA.

Nor long ago we had occasion to publish particulars of a hierarchical outrage in the Philippines which would have been a credit to the Castilian Inquisition in its palmy days. The facts of the case were sufficiently well established, for the Daily contemporary says must be true. We have learnt that our efforts on that occasion met with such success that the whole of our issue for Manila was intercepted in the post. It is, of course, flattering to our vanity to find that our paper is worth stealing; but it is inconvenient. there is an old Yankee jingle about those who "get there just the same." On a previous occasion when the Manila priestly authorities undertook to suppress us, when the Jesuits anticipated the war-cry of their Hongkong legal brethren "Smash Fraskx-SMITH "-that attempt afforded several interesting lessons, infinitely more gratifying to us than to our friends the enemy. We are grateful. We thank them-not for their intention, but for their kind way of carrying it out, for their grotesquely clumsy efforts, their infantile simplicity of method, and their generous resuscitation of a plan which was previously so satisfactory. One good turn deserves another. We go several better. It is unnecessary to mention who they are that have been so good to us. As Geordie eald to the duck which swallowed his blasting charge and THE death is announced one of the oldest and time fuse-"Bide a wee, and ye'll ken a' about it." A newspaper has ordinarily (if alive to its business) such a large crop of subjects to deal with that some must inevitably be crowded out. Several topics have been lying on our office shelves for months, for years in fact, which would be of paramount interest to our Manila readers. We are not going to trot them out just now, or else the false impression might get about that we were retaliating on the innocents who snapped up our words of wisdom intended for regular subscribers. We shall not reply to them. tion in the Philippines will be doubled. That will necessitate on our part additional attention to the Philippines, and if we are still unable to find room in our columns. it might be possible to take a month's hollday in Manila and establish a branch there. Joking ?- Dear, dear, no! we are particularly serious. Take it as a joke if you like, but don't be surprised if it comes to stern reality.

Anyhow, whatever may be the way in which ultimately the matter developes, it may be of use to our friends to indicate at once those items in our overcrowded programme of more than ordinary importance to the Filipinos. In the first place, the revenue of these flourishing Spanish colonies depends very largely upon Government lotteries; the lotteries depend mostly on fools living in China and Japan, who by all their laws, native" and otherwise, are forbidden to gamble in this use in the garden generally : it supplies natural manner. The law is contravened daily, and efforts are constantly being made to secure the enforcing of the laws. have touched on the subject occasionally, but a thorough treatment of the evil is yet to be, begun. Another trouble is the convent business, an unseen ulcer putrefying the life-blood of Hongkong's morality, and owing its origin and its existence to the same "religious" system which we love so fondly. Other evils thrive and fatten, daring the public pruning knife, defying humanity itself. Those ills which press most heavily on our own colony, and of these again, those which principally affect our readers, must first claim our attention; and if-the Manila people are to become an increasingly important section of the Telegraph's public, then we should be criminally negligent if we failed to give them increased attention.

He was at first a hulk-keeper. but in 1863 began his long connectio with the traffic on the river, on which he was one of the foremost pilots at the time of his death. He was a man of the quietest and most retiring disposition, thoroughly esteemed for his solid qualities, and his loss will be much regretted by all who knew him.

THE second-class cruiser Arethusa, 10, 4,300 ons, 5.500-horse power, attached to the velway Reserve, went out of Sheerness Harbour on the and December for the official trials of her new gun-mountings. The Arethusa was completed for sea some six years ago, but has never been employed on foreign service. During the past few months she has been in the dockyard hands at Chatham for repairs and alterations, and has been fitted with new carriages for her ten 6in. breech-loading guns. The trials proved of a satisfactory character, and the Arcthusa returned to Sheerness Harbour at night. The Times adds :-- She is under orders to proceed to Chatham, and will be placed in the First Division of the Reserve until she is required for active service. It is expected the Arethusa will be despatched to the China Station for the relief of her sister cruiser Leander, which will shortly complete her second term of foreign service.

In the course of a letter addressed to the Siams Free Press recently Mr. Ange Westenholz appears to have had cause to publicly defend the Bangkok Tramway Company, of which he is Manager, against certain charges brought against the Board of Directors and in winding up he dealt a blow at juries in the following | Acting Colonial Secretary, and late Attorne sensible and pithy style :--

"Now, what I love is not generosity—especially with other people's money—but fustice. I know this is an article not much in vogue; we Europeans have even managed to drive it out of our religion, substituting farour; but I will fight it as I can. I do not expect it from a community to whom we are an object of mittaion and envy; but if some of them would go so far in impartiality as to read through all of the above—a thing scarcely to be expected from people who usually read only the papers of their own party—I shall not have written quite in vain."

We can fully sympathise with Mr. Westenhols and hope to hear that he has cantered through his case with better success than attended the efforts of the Editor of this journal lately. If he fights fair from first to last he is bound to lose in the end. Magna est verilas sed maxima fraus.

OUR LEGISLATURE!

MEN OF THE WORLD WANTED IN COUNCIL.

That the time has arrived when practical business men should take an active part in the political inffairs of this now "busted" colony there can be but little doubt. The trouble with our legislation is that there has ever been ton much of the Downing Street protegé about ittoo much of the lawyer and of the hare-brained ruminations of hopeless and bigoted men who have been literally pitch-forked into positions which they are unfit for and are lacking in the mental capacity and practical experience and knowledge of the world to fill, either with credit to themselves, or profit to the taxpayers. It is the weakness of the lawyer and the full-fledged cadet to believe that he is specially qualified for ashamed of itself aids and abets in the meanest legislative work, probably because of his thing we have ever seen in this mean world, by supposed ability to draw up bills in such form. publishing the following :-- We have received as to necessitate speedy amendments, but from their Excellencies the Ministers of Itely more likely because he thinks he is able, by and Great Britain, the sum of Five yes each for reason of his training (save the mark), to view all the Relief of the Sufferers by the Earthquake, public questions from a sufficiently broad standthe condition attached being that their Excel- point and with a thorough appreciation of their lencies shall be completely and effectuelly merits. Indeed, in respect to a very large number of matters that come under the consideration of the Legislative Council the Downing Street prelege is not so competent to form a reliable opinion as are our representative business men. As a rule the "men from London" give but little thought to their work, they are constantly shuffled about from one department to another-"acting" here there and everywhere-and ere they have fairly mastered the routine of one post they find themselves foisted into another and sometimes are acting three or four parts in a legislative farce which is crying evil and an unconstitutional form of Government which is an insult to common understanding of any ordinary free man. "It is certain, at any rate, that the Official Phalanx devote but very little study to commercial, industrial and shipping matters, about which the major portion of our legislation is concerned, and is deeply concerned. The average official puppet gets but a surface knowledge of financial or manufacturing or shipping questions and talks in Council accordingly. It is bigh time that such manifestly incompetent hangers-on of the Colonial Office-to whose hounty they owe their existence and without which they would probably starve—to take a "back seat" and leave the representatives of the people to legislate in a practical businesslike manner. That is to say, the number of unofficial members of the local legislature should be equal to, if not greater than, that of the gang of obsequious toadies and arrant snobs who jammed the £40,000 military contribution down the taxpayers' throats last year, and who from time to time have shown only too clearly that it is for the Impedal Government they are working (?) and not for the overtaxed ratepayers of the

> In bread and butter. Without mentioning other industries, is sufficient to cite the shipping industry as evidence of want of sound judgment Council. For years past there has been need of a careful revision of the laws governing the wast shipping affairs of this colony, but as there is not one official in the Council directly interested in the "mainstay of the third scaport in the world," shipping, the result is that the colony attained the fiftleth year of its age before anything approaching careful thought was given to the subject, and then a half-anti-half measure was the result. And it should be borne in mind in this connection that the existence of such a growing, active and useful society, as the British Mercantile Marine Officers' Association is acknowledged to be, must be credited with having caused more than usual interest to be manifested in the revision of the Merchant Shipping Consolidation Ordinance which recently passed its third reading in Council, The debates on that subject were chiefly conducted by lawyers-Mr. Leach, Acting Attorney General, and Mr. W. M. Goodman the General - overflowing chiefly with "Blue Book knowledge" and their knowledge of the law of the land! And yet they held forth at length on an industry which is of vital importance not only to this colony but which is one of the most inportant industries of our Empire. And where were the unofficialspractical business men like Mr. T. H. Whitehead Mr. Keswick, Mr. Chater, and Mr. Phineas Ryrie? We are inclined to think they might as well have been in their offices or at home smoking their cigars for all the good they could do for their constituents in face of the overwhelming majority of officials, not one of whom daze side with them. And so it is and ever will be until we have practical chipping and scafaring men and thoroughly, representative men in the Council in numbers not less if not greater than those who have all tisfactory state of affairs.

THE WRECK OF THE "MARIE!

CHINESE AND GERMAN LIVES LOST.

Telegraphic news which reached Hongkong yesterday afternoon confirms the reported loss, by drowning, of two of the German steamer Marie's engineers. They were the second and third engineers, both of German nationality, who, together with several Chinese sailors Gremen and servants, ten in all, were washed overboard shortly after the vessel struck the rocks on the coast near Chefoo.

The exact cause of the catastrophe is not yet known in Hongkong, but it is reasonable to suppose that the Marie's engines broke down while she was labouring in a heavy scaway, and that she was then driven by a strong North-west gale broadside on to the rocky shore. That a terrific gale in some way contributed to the disaster there can be no doubt in view of the fact that the above mentioned members of the crew were literally washed overboard, and it is feared that the worst is not yet known.

In the course of a day or two foll particulars should reach Hongkong via Shanghal, whence It is understood pumps have been sent up to the goone of the wrock.

· Fatshan, January 4th, 1802. The Tientsin Treaty is rapidly becoming in many respects a dead letter in South Chins, and the high-handed encroachment upon the rights of foreigners by Canton officials is paving the way for another Anglo-Chinese war. For years it was impossible to obtain the advantages of the transit pass for merchandise sent into the interior from Canton, and now that some enterprising houses here have insisted upon having these advantages, the illegal institution of a special local "town-tax" for goods which have arrived from the ports under transit pass has made Art. TWO GREAT BILLS.

Kobi, December 24th. The Diet has passed the Bills amending the Law of Public Meetings and Associations and the Newspaper Press Regulations, and in doing so, it need scarcely be said, has duly fulfilled the expectations formed of its probable action by the majority of foreign observers. Less will be effected by the new laws than one would infer from the stir made. Political meetings and societies, and it is these alone the revised law affects, as heretofore remain amenable to police survelliance and control. Nor has the right and power of the officers of the law to interfere and disperse meetings been materially curtailed. For the best, many will think. That the power vested in the police authorities is considerable, is plainly shown by the terms of Art. 6. which after enjoining upon promoters of public meetings the necessity of advising the place of meeting or the route by which any political procession is intended to pass, gives the police choice of granting or withholding permission should they have doubts as to the effect of the projected demonstration or gathering upon public peace and order. . BERLIN, December 4th. The epidemic of influenza which has been prevailing in this city for some time past is daily spreading, and the number of persons afflicted with the disease is now very large. It is estimated that over 40,000 persons in Berlin have been attacked with influenza since November 1st. The disease is pronounced of a much more virulent type than that which prevailed two years ago, and many deaths are reported. So widespread have been its ravages that judicial and municipal affairs are interfered with, owing to the illness of many of those connected with the various departments. Fallieres, Minister of Justice and Public Worship, said that the provisions of the Concordat were amply sufficient to recall the clergy to a sense of the respect they owe the Constitution. It begins to look as though the ex-Chancellor's prophecies had been realised, and, as politics are less a matter of sentiment than of interest and the interests of most European Powers bind them to Germany, it must be feared that by our own fault we have lost three-quarters of the benefit derived from the entente with Runia.....
